High Performance Staplers

For your most demanding requirements in the office or shared workspace

Everyday Electric: When speed and no force stapling is desired. Electric staplers accommodate any desktop or shared workspace need, offering a variety of capacity capabilities. Virtually effortless, these staplers do the work for you.

High Capacity Manual: For tackling the biggest jobs, up to 210 sheets. Ergonomically designed and offering features such as jam clearing devices and all-metal construction, these staplers fill any high capacity need.

Everyday Desk Staplers

For those everyday stapling jobs at your workstation, at home or in the office

Standard Capacity: Perfect for everyday, desktop use at home or in the office. Optima® Staplers offer 25% more capacity (25 sheets) for larger everyday projects.

Mid Capacity: When up to 3 times more capacity is needed than usual desktop staplers.

Compact: Smaller staplers with many of the same features as full size staplers...smaller size for easy mobility. Use at home or the office.

Handheld: Personal-use grip staplers designed for handheld use with comfort and ease of use in mind.

Portable / Mini Staplers

Mini size perfect for backpack, briefcase, or computer bag. All come with a starter box of staples

Speciality Staplers, Staples and Removers

For special needs and projects: Staplers for a wide variety of handheld use or shared workspace applications. Don't forget the staples!

Anti-Skid Base	Prevents the stapler from slipping on flat surfaces.	Throat Depth	The maximum distance from the edge of the paper to the point where the staple is driven into the paper.
Anvil	The steel plate on the base of the stapler with indentations that form staples. A proper "clinch" depends to a large degree on a properly designed anvil.	Tie Plate	A steel plate generally welded to the front of the staple channel. By maintaining the dimensions of the channel and staple chute, the tie plate prevents jams and misfeeds.
By-Pass Clinch	Staple legs by-pass each other when stapling small quantities of paper. Allows one staple to be used on as few as two sheets or as many as 60 sheets. No need to continuously change staple sizes. This technology is used in the following Electric Staplers: 69270, 48209, 48210 and the following manual staplers: 87870.	Tacking	Driving the staple into material without using the anvil. Example: attaching material to a bulletin board.
Crown	The top of the staple – see staple illustration.	Undulated Staple	A staple with an offset crown for improved holding power. Minimizes the risk of paper/plastic tears when stapling very thin materials.
Chisel Point Staple	A staple with the legs sharpened to a V.	Troubleshooting
Driver Blade	A metal component attached to the stapler cap, that pushes the staple through the paper, and presses the staple legs down to the anvil to form the "clinch."	Is it the stapler or is it the staple?	Not all staples are alike! When a staple jams or misforms, it is often assumed that the stapler is at fault. In many cases the staple is actually the problem. This is particularly true when stapling 15 to 20 sheets of paper and/or pounding the stapler. Swingline® Standard Staples and S.F.® 4® Premium Staples solve this problem with 35% more leg tensile strength than other standard staples. Expect 75% fewer jams with Swingline® S.F.® 4® Premium Staples and 10-15% fewer jams with Swingline® Standard Staples.
Flat Clinch	Most beneficial with high capacity staplers (eg. High Capacity Electric Stapler) as it eliminates need for several staple sizes. Improves stacking of multiple documents.	Paper Weight	Weight and bond of paper can vary dramatically. Standard copy paper is almost always 20 lb. All references to Swingline® stapler paper capacities are based on standard 20 lb. copy paper.
Inner Rail	A part inside the staple channel that supports the staples. A full length rail helps keep the staples in alignment.	Warranty	For complete warranty details call 1-800-268-3447.
Pinning	Using straightened rather than clinched staple to form a temporary paper fastener.
Positive Locking Latch	A device that locks the stapler head to the base, preventing accidental opening. Stapler head opens easily for tacking.
Staple Capacity	The number of staples which a stapler will hold at one loading.
Staple Strip	A length of staples joined together by adhesive into a strip of pre-determined number. A "full-strip" of standard staples is 210 staples; a "half-strip" is 105 staples.

Swingline punches come in the broadest range of sizes, shapes and capacities.

Swingline punches come in the broadest range of sizes, shapes, and capacities. That's because we understand the full scope, specific requirements and unique qualities of our customers' hole punching needs. From desktop to copy center; office to home; heavy duty to light and portable – we're committed to inventing, designing and producing exceptional tools that deliver the consistent performance you demand in a punch. Precision, durability, capacity, ease-of-use: these aren't just catch phrases that we attach to our product descriptions, they're our benchmarks – and the vocabulary we use to help you determine which hole punch is right for you!

To make it even easier, we've separated our hole punching products into the following families:

- High Performance Punches

For demanding requirements and high volume use – in your office, shared workspace or copy/processing centers. Durable, innovative, exceptionally flexible, these punches are ideal for large stacks of paper. They deliver clean, precise presentations, no matter what the size. Punches in this family present you with a superior range of choices – in capacity, ease-of-use and punch head flexibility.

Electric: when automation, convenience and superior productivity are essential.

High Capacity: for your largest jobs. Powerful, flexible, efficient.

Three-Hole Mid Capacity: the perfect balance of capacity and flexibility – for medium to large jobs.

- Everyday Desktop Punches

At your fingertips for all your standard jobs – in the office or the home. Efficient and convenient, these punches are ideal for organizing and managing memos, loose pages, presentations or schoolwork. Punches in this family present you with a range of choices – in capacity, ease-of-use and portability.

- Specialty Punches

For special needs and projects – on your desktop, in shared workspace or copy/processing centers. Ideal for single-hole applications, two-hole medical, legal and accounting applications and personal planners. Durable, versatile, customizable – for your unique punching needs. Punches in this family present you with a range of choices – in capacity, ease-of-use, precision and flexibility.

Keep in touch with Swingline. We are an office place innovator and your efficiency ally – constantly developing, designing and producing new tools for your workplace and always looking for new ways to deliver increased productivity and flexibility in your workday. ### quick reference guide

sheet capacity:
find the sheet capacity at first glance

number of punch holes:
at a blink of an eye

Sheet Capacity:

Amount of paper that can be punched by a particular model. It is stated in paper weight of 20 lb. Be sure to check paperweight when comparing capacities and always compare 20 lb. paper. Remember to reduce the number of sheets if you add extra punch heads.

Centers:

The measured distance between the outside holes punched in paper

Paper Guide:

Calibrated guide for positioning papers for punching
Centamatic® Guide:

Select usage

Determine where the shredder will be located and how many people will use it

Cut style

The more sensitive the information, the higher security level you need

- Strip-cut – normal security
  - Cross-cut – medium security
  - Micro-cut – high security

Capacity

Choose the highest sheet capacity, bin sizes and duty cycles to meet your organization's needs

Other features

Look for additional features to improve performance and protect your investment

- Jam prevention: Jam Free technologies help eliminate frustrating jams and shred more efficiently, saving valuable time.
  - Auto feed operation: Automatic shredding lets you stack, shut and go.
  - Self oil: Automatic oiling maintains peak performance and extends shredder life.
  - Self clean: Automatically removes material caught in blades, helps reduce shred build up in cutters.

Decibel comparison

Evaluate acceptable levels of noise in your environment.

- 70 decibels - dishwasher, noisy office
- 60 decibels - conversation in restaurant or office, background music
- 55 decibels - private conversation

Overhead Projectors

Overhead Projector Definitions

Transmissive	The most commonly used overhead projector format with the light source positioned in the base under the projection stage. The light is projected upward through the transparency and reflected by the head toward the screen. Apollo® items: 3400, 3000, 3002, 16000.
Head Type	Open, duckbill-type head, recommended for most applications, delivers a slightly brighter light than the closed-head type. Closed-head type provides lens protection from fingerprints and dust and is perfect for school use or for industrial environments.
Lumens	A measurement of light intensity taken at the source of the light. 2,000-4,000 lumens recommended for most transparencies; 4,000+ lumens for detailed, dense-color transparencies, large rooms and uncontrollable environmental lighting areas.
Lamp Type	Standard 3-letter lamp designations as defined by American National Standards Institute (ANSI). Apollo® items: 3000, 3002, 16000, – use EYB lamp. 3400 uses EVD Lamp.

Stage	The clear glass platform from which transparencies are projected. Larger stages accommodate full 8 1/2" x 11" transparency sheets in horizontal or vertical orientation.
Lamp Changer	Allows the user to instantly change lamps by simply flipping a switch, in the event of a lamp blowout. Prevents embarrassing delays in the middle of presentations. Apollo® items: 3400, 3000, 3002, 16000.
Lens Element	The number of individual elements that make up a projection lens. The greater number of elements, the better the quality of the projected image.
High/Low Switch	Light output control switch that allows the user to use lower lumen output for simple transparency presentations and higher lumen output for color dense transparency slides. Use of the low setting maximizes lamp life. Apollo® items: 3400, 3000, 3002.
